

Media & Speaking: Michele Steeb

Michele Steeb is a nationally recognized leader, speaker, and media voice on homelessness policy, systems reform, and human restoration.

Drawing from 13 years leading Northern California's largest program for homeless women and children, Michele's front-line experience cuts through failed narratives to expose the real roots of America's homelessness crisis — and what it takes to address it.

She is the founder of Free Up Foundation and author of Answers Behind the RED DOOR: Battling the Homeless Epidemic. She has written over 50 Op-Eds published in leading national and regional outlets, including:

Fox News (link to latest piece)
Washington Post (link to piece)
Newsweek (link to latest piece)
The Federalist (link to latest piece)
USA Today (link to latest piece)
The Daily Caller (link to latest piece)
The Hill (link to latest piece)

[\[View additional work\]](#) (link to full archive)

Interviews & Speeches

Michele has been featured on major broadcast and digital platforms, as well as high-level policy forums:

Dr. Phil (link to appearance)
Steve Hilton Podcast (link to August 2024 episode)
Pepperdine University Speech (link)
Capitol Hill Press Conference (May 2023 – link)

Epoch Times (June 2020 – link)

[View additional engagements] (link to archive)

Speaking Topics

The July 2025 Executive Order: Ending Housing First's Grip

The Collapse of Housing First: Why It Failed, and What's Needed to Rebuild

Beyond the Bed: How a Human First Approach Heals the Soul

Compassion Hijacked: How Ideology Drove Homelessness to New Heights

California's Cautionary Tale: What We Can Learn from Its Spectacular Failure

Media Inquiries

Michele is available for:

- Interviews (TV, radio, podcasts, print)
- Keynote speeches
- Panel discussions
- Commentary on breaking homelessness and housing policy

Email: michele@freeupfoundation.com

Phone: 916-832-7626

